

Managing Security Surveys

15th – 17th November 2026

Holiday Inn Hotel, Muscat, Oman

About the course

Conducting a security survey is an essential skill for security managers, consultants, and other security professionals. Surveying is often fundamental to the design and functionality of a good security provision. This BTEC Level 4 course will teach you how to identify particular threats to your business, premises and staff, and most importantly, how you can protect against them.

This classroom course provides a step-by-step guide to the process of conducting an effective survey. You will leave the course having created and designed a template for conducting your own security surveys, which you can then use at your place of work.

During the training, our experienced instructors will guide you through each stage involved in conducting a survey. You will also learn how to use the security survey as part of your ongoing risk analysis and security strategy.

Assessment for this BTEC Level 4 Award includes the creation of a portfolio of work, forming the basis of a written assignment. This written assignment is then completed after the classroom training has finished, in your own environment. In addition to the written assignment, the 1:1 sessions with the instructor at the end of the course also forms the basis of the BTEC accreditation.

As part of the course you will be able to put in to practice the theory you have learnt by undertaking a physical survey of a site, under the supervision of the instructor.

Who will this benefit

The course is perfect if you have the responsibility of conducting or overseeing security surveys. By guiding you through the important stages from initial planning to final report, this course enables you to quickly and efficiently assess your security strengths and weaknesses.

It gives you with the essential measures needed to maximise your protection whilst meeting the realistic constraints of your budget.

Workshop Details

- Duration: 15th – 17th November 2026, 3 days, 8:00 am – 4:30 pm;
- Fees: RO 1,225/ US$ 3,185 Plus VAT, if applicable (including workshop materials, lunches & breaks at the venue);
- Instructor: Mr. Richard Pendry;
- Venue: Holiday Inn Hotel, Muscat, Oman.

Course Content

- When to conduct a security survey
- How to plan and conduct a security survey
- What constitutes an effective security survey
- How to use crime prevention methods and techniques to reduce crime and loss
- How to use the security survey to prepare a risk assessment
- What security measures are available and when and how to use them
- How to write a security survey report and make effective recommendations

The Company

We are the leading international providers of security management training, specialising in the fields of security management, offering accredited training courses designed for managers, supervisors and practitioners.

Strongly supported by universities and professional bodies such as the Security Institute and ASIS International, our courses provide the latest thinking and best practices techniques, combined with academic knowledge that is required for today's security professional.

We offer flexible course delivery through distance e-learning, bite-size courses, virtual training via Zoom and face-to-face classroom based training. In addition we offer a comprehensive in-house for companies requiring a more tailored training programme. We also provide the distance learning MSc in International Security and Risk Management delivered in partnership with the University of West London.

Part of the renowned Linx International Group, delivering security consultancy and training globally, we believe that our clients deserve the very best training experience. Whether you're an experienced Security Manager looking to specialise in a particular field, or have a military or policing background with a desire to move into the private sector, working with only the very best trainers, we ensure our learners gain their qualifications in an interactive, engaging and motivating training environment – and enjoy their learning experience.

Instructor Profile

Richard Pendry

Richard has over 30 years of delivering management solutions (16 in high-risk areas) to complex challenges in Africa, Middle East, Europe and South Asia. He is a subject matter expert on providing operational risk management and security technical support for commercial, governmental implementers partners and INGOs in an international context. Extensive experience in contractual audit ISO 9001 and compliancy; developing and implementing plans, policies and procedures; training and capacity building and advising on business continuity and crisis management to ensure organisational resilience. During his career he has been instrumental in managing contracts which include: contractual audit and compliancy, physical audit, quantitative risk assessments, gap analysis, threat identification & intelligence analysis, business continuity protocols and critical incident & crisis management

Richard has a Degree in Security & Risk Management and a Masters in Terrorism Studies.